Spending Money at Home.

A Bloomfield merchant called a day or two ago to have some printing done, and after giving his order made the request that something be published to dissuade people from the habit many have of doing their trading out of the place. What he particularly complained of was that many are in the habit of spending their cash in the cities and patronizing the local store only when they find it convenient or necessary to buy upon credit. "How can we," the country merchant asks, "compete with city prices under such discouraging circumstances?" The question is a very proper one. Here are ten reasons, given by an exchange, why people ought to spend their money at home:

- 1st. It is your home; you cannot improve it much by taking money away to spend or invest.
- 2d. There is no way of improving a place so much as by encouraging good merchants, good schools, and good people to settle among you, and this cannot be done unless you spend your money at home.
- 3d. Spend your money at home, because there is where you generally get it. It is your duty.
- 4th. Spend your money at home because when it is necessary for you to get credit, it is of your town merchants you have generally to get it, and they must wait for the money. Therefore, when you have cash in hand spend it at home.
- 5th. Spend your money at home. It will make better merchants of your merchants; they can and will keep better assortments and sell at lower rates than if the only business they can do is what is credited out, while the money goes to other places.
- 6th. Spend your money at home. You may have sons growing up who will some day be the best merchants in town. Help lay the foundations for them now. It is a duty.
- 7th. Spend your money at home. By my trading at the store I got my son a position as clerk, and now he is proprietor. Then you will think it hard if your neighbors spend their money out of town. Set the example now.
- 8th. Spend your money at home. Set the example now. Buy your dry goods, groceries, meats and everything at home, and you will see a wonderful change in a short time in the business outlook of the place; therefore, deal with your home merchants.
- 9th. Spend your money at home. What do you gain by going off? Count the cost; see what you could have done at home by letting your merchant have the cash. Strike a balance and see if you would not have been just as well off, besides helping your merchant.
- 10th. Spend your money at home. Your merchants are your neighbors, your friends; they stand by you in sickness—see your associates; without your trade they cannot keep your business. No stores, then no banks, no one wanting to buy property to settle on and build up your place.
- 11th. Merchants should do their advertising at home. They should get their bill-heads, circulars, cards, letter-heads, envelopes, and all their printing at home, of their own newspaper, who aid them in many ways, and advertise them hundreds of times without any pay whatever. Merchants should set an example to their customers by patronizing liberally their home newspapers. Men and women are imitative animals, and are prone to follow examples set them. How can merchants expect their neighbors to trade with them if they set the example of going away from home for their printing and advertising? Let merchants and people all patronize home enterprise, and home industry and home trade. So shall they all be prosperous and happy.

The Hon. Godlove S. Orth, nominated by the Republicans as Governor of Indiana, and at present Minister to Austria, is the Uncle of Mrs. Dr. Seibert of the German Theological School. The Grandfather of Mr. Orth and his brother Adam Godlove (Gottlieb) Orth, the father of Mrs. Seibert, came to America with the Moravians, under Count Zinzendorf, at the foundation of Bethlehem, Pa. Some of the family suffered massacre in the old wars. In the revolutionary war the family espoused the patriot cause, and fought, no doubt, with German valor, in the American Army. Mr. Adam Godlove Orth was "House-Father" in the Mercersburg Theological Seminary, in which Mrs. Seibert was born. On the other hand, Dr. Seibert himself is of Hessian descent. If Rahl who fought at Trenton and all the Hessians who fought for the British in New Jersey had been of Dr. Seibert's pattern, in heart and mind, the Americans would have formed another opinion of them. The crossed swords of Prescott's patriot and tory ancestors hang on the walls of the library of the historian. So now ideally at least the crossed swords of the Moravian and the Hessian ancestors hang on the walls of the study of the Professor of Theology.

The bell-punch, which is used by street car conductors in the large cities, has been introduced on the Newark and Bloomfield line of horse cars, and it is said that other companies will adopt this contrivance in a short time.

News Notes.

—Connecticut spends $1,000,000 per annum for educational purposes.
—A distiller in New Hampshire makes all his employees sign the temperance pledge.
—The Light Guard of Green Bay, Wis., are going to walk all the way to the Centennial, 1,033 miles.
—It is said that there is a prosperous colony of Americans, numbering 600 souls, in the province of San Paulo, Brazil.

—The experiment of raising Angora goats in the mountainous regions of Arizona has already proved a substantial success.
—Miss Hobert, a Massachusetts girl, has purchased twenty acres of land in Westminster, Cal., and is devoting half of it to onions.
—A sister-in-law of Thomasheen, the dynamite fiend, has been discharged from a dry goods store in St. Louis on account of the relationship.

—The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company are surveying a route for a new railway, from Elmira to Geneva, via Watkins, along the east shore of Seneca Lake.

—The Plymouth Church Advisory Council was dissolved Feb. 24, after sustaining Plymouth Church in its discipline and providing for the appointment of a special bureau to investigate charges against Mr. Beecher.

—The marriage of Professor Tyndall to Miss Louise Claude Hamilton, took place on Tuesday at Westminster Abbey. The rite was performed by Dean Stanley. Among those present were Thomas Carlyle, Professor Huxley, Dr. Hooker, and Sir F. Pollock.

—The country shopkeeper said: "Here, my friend, those balls of butter I bought of you last week all proved to be just three ounces short of a pound. And the farmer innocently answered, 'Well, I don't see how that could be, for I used one of your pound bars of soap for a weight.'

—"Have you any elm wood?" said a seely-looking customer to a Boston dealer in wood. "Oh, yes," was the reply, "some down the wharf." The fellow bought a log. The next day he duplicated the purchase, and the day after "What are you doing with this wood?" asked the dealer. "Every log is worth ten dollars since the Great Elm tumbled down," was the significant reply.

—A terrific hurricane passed over St. Charles, Mo., Sunday afternoon, and swept everything before it. Kramer's warehouse and the gas works were totally wrecked. The Court House, County Jail, German Methodist Church, St. Charles Savings Bank, Park House, Old Fellows' Hall, the "News," "Zeitung," "Democrat," and "Hour" offices, and the railroad depot were all badly damaged. The storm lasted five minutes, and presented the appearance of a huge rolling yellow cloud. The loss is estimated at $500,000.

—Mr. James Gordon Bennett, of the "Herald" will be married the third week in April, to Miss Ida May, formerly of Baltimore. Miss May is tall, and of rather slight build. She has brilliant black eyes and dark wavy hair, as well as a pure complexion, the envy of half the society belles of the city. She is just 19 years of age, and has been out about a year. She is the daughter of a retired New York banker and niece of Dr. May, a Washington physician.

—A stranger presented at a bank in Dallas, Texas, a check for $10,000, and also letters purporting to endorse him as a wealthy New Yorker. The bank officers hesitated about paying, and he said: "Telegraph to your bankers in New York, and I will stand the expense. I came here to buy cotton, and must have the money." A message was sent, and soon an answer came back, saying that the check and man were good. The cash was thereupon paid. Yet the operation was a clever swindle. Two telegraphers had taken possession of a shanty a few miles from Dallas, on the line of the wires, attached a battery, taken off the message intended for New York, and answered it.

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.—No people in the world suffer as much with Dyspepsia as Americans—and although years of experience in medicine have failed to accomplish a certain and sure remedy until Dr. J. C. Ayer's "Dyspepsia Remedy" was introduced for this disease and its effects; yet so well has this remedy succeeded in every case to effect a cure, that there is not a Druggist in the United States but recommends AUGUST FLOWER in all cases of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, Constipation, Stomach, Sick Headache, and all derangements of the Stomach and Liver. Go to Geo. R. Davis, Druggist, and get a Sample Bottle for 10 cents and try it. Two doses will relieve any case. Regular size 75 cents.

THE PEOPLE WANT PROOF.—There is no medicine prescribed by physicians, or sold by Druggists, that carries such evidence of the success and superior virtue as BOTTCHER'S GERMAN REMEDY for severe Coughs, Colds settled on the Breast, Consumption, or any disease of the Throat and Lungs. A proof of that fact is that any person afflicted, can get a Sample Bottle for 10 cents and try it. The superior effect before buying the regular size at 75 cents. It has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and its wonderful cures are astonishing everywhere. Use it. Two doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sold by Geo. R. Davis, Druggist.
